

Criteria	Not-evident	Evident	Suggestions from CEL Committee
Engagement Included in Learning Outcomes	LO's do not clearly address engagement	Engagement is embedded in the LO's as a way to learn the course content
Engagement directly relates to and enhances academic content	Engaged work is indirectly related to the course content, and is more service or volunteer focused	Engaged work is directly connected to the academic content
Critical reflection is well-integrated into student learning	Critical reflection opportunities are not well-integrated into student learning, or are absent	Minimum of two opportunities for critical reflection are incorporated into the course and provide for at least two different methods throughout the semester.
Potential community partners and their needs are clearly identified	Specific community partners and their needs are not identified in the application	Potential community partner(s) clearly identified and their needs to be addressed are well-described
The engagement addresses community needs for which the community partner(s) has provided input	The process for identifying community needs has not been articulated and/or needs have not been identified via reciprocal dialogue with the community	The process for identifying community needs has been articulated and includes reciprocal dialogue with the community

ADDITIONAL FEEDBACK